Did you know?

Each color has its own special effect on your décor.
Flooring in a warm, matte tone brings a friendly, elegant feel to a large, cold room. A darker shade adds richness and opulence, regardless of room size. Pale colors lighten the look and give a sense of space.

Cozy refuge

Did you know?

With 7-3/4" flooring you get more than just maximum width: boards are longer as well, some up to 82" long. Longer, wider boards means fewer boards are needed, which in turn means fewer, less visible joints. The result is dramatic, a more uniform look that lets the authenticity of the wood shine through.

Creative haven

Did you know?

A wood floor's durability and final appearance are largely dependent on the composition of the finish and how it is applied at the factory. At Mirage, the finish is perfectly balanced to avoid a plastic look and allow the full beauty of the wood to shine through while at the same time protecting it from life's little mishaps.

Distinctive aroma

Did you know?

Board direction and width play an important role. Some combinations work better than others. For example, installing strips widthwise in a long, narrow room creates the illusion of space. Narrow strips make a room look longer, while wider strips reduce the sense of depth.

FLOOR FOCUS

Different species.
Different hardness.

Cutting methods

Values given in pounds, based on the Janka test. The higher the number, the harder the wood.

There are two basic cutting methods for the hardwood wear layer of an Engineered or a Lock floor. Only the dry sawn method produces the perfect appearance and superior quality worthy of Mirage.

Mirage

Dry sawn

Hardwood precisely sawn in desired thickness of plank.

- Same look as a 3/4" (19 mm) solid flooring
- Fine natural grain
- Each board is unique; no repetitive pattern
- Ultra-thick wear layer; can be sanded 3 to 5 times

The competition

Rotary peeled

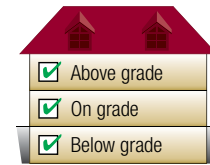

Log is boiled and then peeled in ultra-thin layer using a rotary cut (method used to make plywood)

- Repetitive patterns similar to plywood
- Ultra-thin wear layer; only 1 sanding or sometimes none

Three approaches.
One Mirage Look.

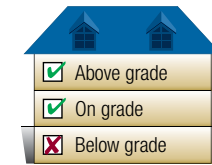

Environments change, methods evolve.
Engineered, Classic, and Lock. Three different ways to bring your Mirage décor to life. Uniformity, stability, longevity.
Precision guaranteed.

The uniqueness of wood

Natural beauty, natural variations

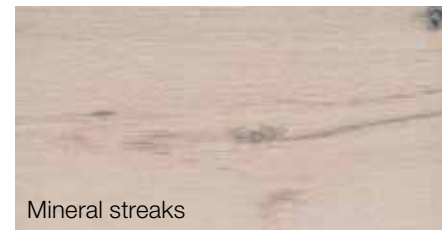

Some floors have a rustic look that highlights the natural character of wood, like those in the Sweet Memories, Imagine, and Flair collections and species such as Knotty Walnut, Old Hickory, and Old White Oak, R&Q. These floors also offer color variations. A number of environmental factors can cause some distinctive marks to become particularly prominent over time.

Talk to your Mirage dealer before making your final choice.

Character or milling marks

Mineral streaks

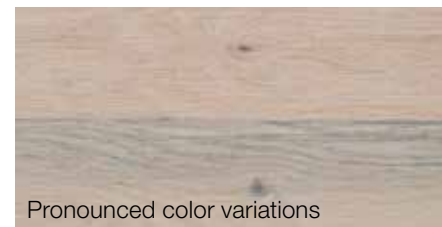

Cracks

Surface holes

Open and closed knots

Pronounced color variations

Wood is a natural material that reacts to ambient light. All wood species change color after installation, some much more than others. A floor will get lighter or darker depending on the species, but this won't affect the beauty or quality of the floor.

The actual look and color of a species may vary from what appears in this document. We cannot guarantee that all character marks and color variations will be represented on a small sample. See your Mirage dealer for advice and all the technical details you need.
